

McCallum Safaris believe wildlife management & community development within and around our concessions play a very important role in the conservation and preservation of our wildlife and habitat.

Under McCallum Safaris, Old Nyika Safaris and Safari Royal commit a large amount of time, equipment, and personnel to our wildlife hunting areas, and we feel it is our duty to reinforce the value of wildlife as a natural resource through job creation, improved education facilities, improvement in basic healthcare, and general economic improvement.

We are proud to be a part of the following film on the benefits of tourist hunting in Tanzania:

Conservation, Management, & Utilization

Tanzania's wildlife conservation depends on hunting to a great extent for its long-term survival. Tourist hunting provides revenue to the Wildlife Division for conservation and anti poaching in remote areas that would otherwise be unsupported. (Most hunting areas are unsuitable to photo-tourism).

Anti-Poaching

Revenue from hunting directly supports the Ministry of Natural Resources and Tourism to manage wildlife and its habitat. Hunting gives value to the wildlife and the land they inhabit. This value transforms into habitat preservation and acts as a deterrent against poaching

Illegal Grazing

Cattle are one of wildlife's biggest enemies.

Community Development

We are committed to ensuring that rural communities located around these wildlife concessions directly benefit from them. Funds are applied to support the village communities surrounding our hunting areas by backing projects of their choice, such as the building of schools, medical facilities and water wells.

Donation of a year's worth of school books

Helping with building classrooms at a local school

Hunting clients contribute directly to these causes and ensure the continuation and preservation of our diverse wildlife as well as the enrichment of communities bordering our hunting areas.
